Kaps local contractor, was submitted to Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Wednesday and then taken under advisement to give counsel an opportunity to submit briefs.

The action is based on an injury sustained by Lee, negro laborer while in the employ of the defendant in December 1919, which resulted in Lee being disabled from work for 104 weeks. Lee made application to the Ohio Industrial Commission for compensation and he was awarded $1502.14 by that board, which was certified to the Attorney General for collection because the defendant had failed and neglected to comply with the workmen's compensation law by refusing to subscribe to the insurance fund or electing to pay compensation direct to his injured employees as provided for in the act.

The defense claims that a contract signed by Lee under which he received a stipulated sum in full settlement and waiving any claim for damages as a result of his injuries, is a bar to recovery in the instant case.

Attorney R. E. Westfall, Columbus, appeared for Lee and Attorney R. R. Zarnesly represented the Attorney General, and Attorney T. C. Beatty appeared for Kaps.

He further stated that he did everything he could to please the defendant and preserve his home, but declared there was no peace and that finally her conduct and treatment became so intolerable that he was compelled to and did leave her for his own peace and safety. Bowling further told the court that on the occasion the wife declared that if he attempted to leave home he would be a subject for the hospital or the undertaker. Attorneys B. F. Kinsdale and Hostetter appeared for plaintiff.

Will Make Effort To Get Out Big Vote

"Get out a big vote for the presidential preference primaries on April 29," was the slogan adopted by the College Republican Club at its regular meeting last night after it had been pointed out that as much as the selection of President Coolidge as the party's standard bearer seemed to be certain now, many might lose interest and fail to go to the polls. The importance of instructing voters how to mark their ballot was also emphasized and a committee was appointed to take charge of a campaign to instruct voters in this respect.

Chairman Walter L. Dickey of the membership committee reported that memberships were coming in at a gratifying rate, and that the first estimates as to membership would probably be exceeded.

President Russell K. McCurdy presided at the meeting and urged all the committees and individual members to get busy and come to the meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock prepared to give a good account of their activities.

ATE TOO FAST GOT INDIGESTION

Experience of a South Carolinian Who Took Black-Draught and Says He Could Soon Eat Anything

Ballentine, S. G.—Mr. W. B. Bouknight, of this place, gave the following account of his use of Theodor's Black-Draught:

"I have used Black-Draught ever since I was a young man and I am now 62 years old. I can't remember the time when we didn't have it in the family.

"Just after I married I had indigestion. Working out, I got in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.

"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."

Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief. Bloating sensations, eructations, bad breath and other common symptoms of indigestion have disappeared after Black-Draught has been taken for several days.

Purely vegetable, safe, reliable.

POLICE NEWS

The age-old cause for arguments—a line fence—was the cause of Mrs. Amy Duke, her two sons, Ed and Oakley, and the latter's wife, Grace, being tried in municipal court yesterday afternoon on charge of attempting to provoke John Rose to a breach of the peace. All of the parties are from the McDermott vicinity.

Rose and the Duke family live neighbors and the trouble which caused the trial is alleged to have occurred on April 14, when Rose started to dig holes in preparation for the building of a fence to prevent the defendants from trespassing.

The defendants denied exhibiting any violence. Oakley and Ed. Duke were fined $5 and costs each and Mrs. Grace Duke was fined the costs. The charge against Mrs. Amy Duke was dismissed.

Leo "Mule" Erwin, negro, arrested a week ago on a charge of selling liquor, was adjudged to be guilty at a hearing in Municipal Court Tuesday, which resulted in the dismissal of Newt Tinsley, accused in a complaint filed by Erwin with a similar offense.

Following his arrest, Erwin claimed that a friend entered his restaurant on Tenth Street, and sought some liquor and declared that when he indicated where he could procure some "mule" the friend produced the money which was used in buying a half pint from Tinsley, he claimed.

The evidence adduced by the state was rather conflicting and Tinsley was dismissed for lack of convincing proof. He was represented by Judge H. S.

Swat The Fly

Flies will begin to breed in the spring as soon as the day are consistently and consecutively warm. They will continue to breed until well on into the autumn. In such a climate as ours, particularly during a moist season there may be nine or more generations. If all the offspring live and should each female fly lay but one batch of eggs instead of three or four, the descendants from a single overwintering female would be 5,398,720,000,000.

Flies will breed in almost any fermenting organic matter. In cities probably most of them breed in horse-manure at the stables. They will breed also in all kinds of garbage, even in old cloth and paper when damp, in fact in all kinds of animal and vegetable refuse.

Keep all garbage cans covered and dispose of all manure piles and we will stamp out the fly, that deadly carrier of disease.

Auto Club Favors New Market Location

In support of the efforts of the Exchange Club and other local civic clubs seeking a new location for the city market, the Portsmouth Automobile Club has sent the following letter to W. L. Dickey, a member of the city council and chairman of the street committee:

My dear Mr. Dickey: We are encouraged by the growing sentiment in favor of relocating the city market, so that traffic congestion in the downtown district may be relieved, our principal interest in the matter.

Our membership, so largely composed of men transacting business and having offices in the downtown district, is also not unmindful that unsanitary conditions incident to holding the market on Griffin street, and an unsightly factor in the appearance the city presents to visitors, will also be eliminated when the market is conducted elsewhere. As a civic organization, we join heartily in the movement to obtain these desirable civic improvements. It will be recalled that we petitioned Council some three years ago to this end, and I have no hesitation in renewing our expressions in this regard at this time, with the hope that the past several years' growing difficulty in the holding of the market on Griffin street, may have resulted in evolving of a practical plan for its removal.

Very truly yours,

McARTHUR SUFFERS $100,000 FIRE LOSS

McARTHUR, O., April 16.—(Special to the Times)—Fire of unknown origin, which broke in the Hamilton block, a two-story brick structure on Main street, in the heart of the town, wiped out the entire building early this morning, causing damage close to $100,000. According to first reports from the owners of the business places visited, they are well protected by insurance.

Aid Sent By Other Cities

The fire had gained rapid headway before it was discovered and before fire fighting equipment could arrive here from Wellston and Chillicothe the flames in the Hamilton building, a structure that covered an entire half square was doomed and the firemen, assisted by hundreds of volunteer workers, turned their efforts to preventing the flames from spreading to adjoining property. Their good work resulted in a millinery store and grocery store close by the Hamilton block being saved from the fire.

The Hamilton block, owned by Harry Hamilton, was one of the latest business structures in McArthur housing the Hamilton-Smith dry goods and grocery store, Cotner and Carls pharmacy, Foreman's pool room, Strech's barber shop, and offices of Dr. Thurman Haas, D. A. W. Paffenbarger, dentist, McArthur Telephone company, Ohio Fuel Gas Company and the county school superintendent.

No War-Like

hitherto been controlled by a "gentlemen's agreement," whereby Japan has refused to grant passports to any except students and business men, thus cutting off coolie labor which has been the chief reason for California's objection to Japanese immigration. There have been charges that Japan did not enforce the agreement but the United States has not taken any action against Japan. Japan did not wish to be placed in the same category as China. Now, however, in recent years immigration has been restricted from all countries and only a certain quota based upon the number of nationals of each country already in the United States in a particular year can be admitted. If the quota system were applied to the Japanese very few would be admitted and the objections of the Japanese probably met but the feeling in Congress is such that absolute exclusion is insisted upon with respect to all persons who can not be assimilated as American citizens.

While many Senators gave as their reason for voting for exclusion that letter of the Japanese ambassador, that is not the real basis for the opposition for the Japanese. The far Western senators have succeeded in converting their colleagues to their ideas of exclusion and there is a disposition in the South to assist the Pacific Coast of this question.

Ambassador Hamihara's letter was not unlike previous communications to the Department of State. The Japanese government has always pointed out the possibility that "grave consequences" might flow from any discriminatory action by the Congress of the United States. But these communications have not been given publicity for the very reason that the latest note has been a boomerang. Congress has resented any interference by foreign powers in domestic legislation. This state department can receive in confidence proposals and veiled threats. That is the proper channel but when the notes become public they are viewed as coercive tactics and have the opposite effect from the one desired.

There was a time as late as five or six years ago when a war scare would have followed any such attitude as Congress now is taking. Japanese pride might have compelled the Tokyo government to back up its notes by the threat to use force. But there is a change in the relations between Washington and Tokyo. The earthquake not only has enfeebled the Japanese navy but impoverished the country and brought it face to face with a serious economic crisis. The States also has begun to buy more from Japan. The rivalry of Naval armament has been curtailed through the recent Washington conference treaties and there is no longer an Anglo-Japanese alliance to worry the statesmen here. On the whole, the situation has changed. No longer is there a warlike Japan behind the diplomatic notes and possibly, if there were, it would not alter the action of Congress because the right to control who shall or shall not enter the territory of the United States is a sovereign right just as zealously guarded here as it is in Tokyo. For the sake of better relations, however, the softening of the effects of the blow was wanted by the Department of State and undoubtedly both the President and Secretary Hughes will continue their influence to obtain a modified bill even though a Presidential veto may be necessary to secure that result.

Fourteen Shots Fired Into The Home Of Klan Chief

MARION, ILLINOIS, April 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Fourteen shots were fired by unidentified persons early today into the country home of Sam Stearns, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors and reputed leader of the Williamson county Ku Klux Klan. Ross Lizenby, hired man, was shot through the right leg.

The shots went over the bed of Stearns and his wife, who narrowly missed being killed. Copper jacketed bullets were fired from two revolvers by two or three men in a motor car that they kept in constant motion.

In a bitter Klan and anti-Klan city election fight at Marion yesterday Judge R. N. Judge Bowen was held in jail an hour and then released on bond.

The arrest was made by Chief of Police John Ford and Policemen Harold Crain, both Marion Klansmen, and S. Glenn Young, paid Klan liquor ruler. Judge Bowen instructed the special Marion grand jury which indicted Young and other Klansmen for the riots in Marion on the night of February 8. The Klan ticket won in Marion.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—My husband is so mean to me that I don't know what to do. Dolly, he never gives me any money and I haven't bought a thing since I got my trousseau. I guess he thinks I can live on love, but I have gotten over that stage long ago, and I now want a new Easter outfit. Dolly how can I get some money out of him. Shall I take a rolling pin and get it out of his hide or take it out of his pockets when he goes to sleep. Outside of being a tight-wad my husband is not so bad. What can I do to make him loosen up.

DISTRACTED WIFE.

If coaxing won't do any good, I suppose you will have to get busy with the rolling pin. And listen—don't stop when you get an Easter outfit. Make him loosen up and give you an allowance every week or month so you will not have to ask him for money for every little thing you need. The trouble is, you started out wrong. You should have settled the money question when you got married. Instead of waiting until you needed so many things.

Dear Dolly—There is a woman in this town and every time I go out street and I meet her and she yells foul things at me. She is usually riding around in an automobile, and I would like to put a stop to her slurring remarks. Dolly what steps shall I take to do this?

DAILY READER.

You could have her arrested or put under a police warrant, but if I were

I would not pay any attention to her. Just consider the source and let it go at that.

Dear Dolly—What do you think of a man who will go with a girl for five years, three nights out of a week, and then not pop the question? After doing this he falls for a young bubbled haired flapper and I hear he is about to pop the question to her. Don't you think he has lost all the sense he ever had? Dear Dolly, what should you do with a man like that? Ditch him, or sue him for breach of promise? Dolly, how can I win him away from this flapper. I am 30 years of age and he is 35. I like to have to start out and win some other man after wasting all my charms on this unappreciative wretch. What shall I do?

NEAR-OLD MAID.
I suppose you will have to bob your hair and join the flapper parade, if you want to hold your man. You can't sue him for breach of promise if he did not pop the question, but you might pop it yourself, since this is leap year. I don't think it necessary to start out and see how many men you can vamp, but it might be a good idea to let your erstwhile lover know that he is not the only man in the world.

Dear Dolly—I have lost my friend's address and I want you to tell me how to locate him. I know what state he is located in but not the city. If I should send you his picture could you tell me where he is. Answer soon. DAILY READER.

If you know any of his friends you might ask them for his address, otherwise you will have to wait until he writes you again. I could not tell from looking at his picture where he is.

Dear Dolly—I would like to know how to make a cheap angel food cake. I have a recipe for one that calls for a dozen eggs, but I don't like to use that many. If you have a recipe that calls for fewer eggs please print it in the paper.

SAVING HOUSEWIFE.
Most of us avoid angel cake recipes on account of the great number of eggs called for. This is a mighty good substitute for the real thing. Three egg whites beaten stiff, one cup of sugar, 1/4 cups flour, two teaspoons of baking powder, one cup of hot milk, one teaspoon of vanilla extract. Sift flour, baking powder and a pinch of salt three times before putting ingredients together.

Dear Dolly—Do you know where Richard, the Wizard, is located, and if he is ever coming back here?

A. S. A. W.
Richard, the Wizard, may be located by addressing him, Ralph Richards, room 1312 Tribune building, Chicago, Illinois. I don't imagine he will be back here very soon.

BLACKIE—Inquire at the local beauty parlors. If you can't find what you want, I will tell you where you can get 'em.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

SNOW WHITE AND THE DWARFS

A little fiery ferryman took them across seven lakes.

The next place in Once-Upon-A-Time Land that Mister Muggs took the twins in his magic automobile was to see Snow White.

The prince had built her a glass castle and there they had lived happily ever after—just as the story said.

They crossed seven islands and a little fiery ferryman took them across seven lakes, and there stood Snow White's castle.

Glad to see them! Why, she nearly fell out of her window with joy when she saw them coming, for ever since her wicked stepmother had died the prince had been very particular about strangers coming to the castle, and Snow White was getting lonely, as the prince was out hunting so much.

She ran downstairs and let them in herself before the servant could say that nobody was at home to cater to that day.

"How do you do?" she said in a stony voice, kissing everybody, even ugly little Mister Muggs, who had to hold onto a chair he was so surprised.

"We're very well, thank you," said Nick, "and we came to see if there is anything you need to make you happy."

"Oh, thank you," cried Snow White. "There is just one thing! I would like to know if my seven dwarfs are well. They live in your mountains and they work hard all day. I am so afraid they won't have anything to cook for them when they come home tired at night—or make their beds—or mend their clothes."

A birthday anniversary party at the home of Mrs. Lydia Hughes on Second street, was in honor of her son, Delbert Eugene Hughes, Jr. The homeliest received a number of birthday gifts from his friends present who passed the time with dancing and games. The guests were Catherine Young, Dorothy Keller, Marie Keller, Lucille Walker, Lella Forst, Mary Rogers, Hazel Hughes, Emma Jean Wadell, Katherine Hughes, Homer Tracy, Albert Keller, Arthur Rogers and Delbert Hughes. ## "Republicans Look Forward To Campaign Undismayed By Scandal Mongers and Tale-Bearers"-Hughes

NEW YORK, April 15.—(By the A. P.)—Inviting a candid appraisal of past achievements and expressing unbounded confidence in the leadership of President Coolidge, Secretary Charles E. Hughes told New York Republicans last night that their party could look forward to the presidential campaign undismayed by "scandal mongers" and "tale-bearers."

"You will search in vain for a more ideal executive than President Coolidge," said the secretary in a keynote address before the state convention in Town Hall. "The American people have already indicated their determination to keep him where he is. He is his own platform. His first message was a comprehensive survey of conditions, requirements and purposes, which has chartered the course of the Republican party and commanded the approval of the country. No other platform is needed."

Predicts Bright Future

"No one can foresee the exigency which the administration may have to confront. It is the unexpected that happens to presidents, as to others. For this reason, character is more important and declarations. Today there is no occasion for experiment, no reason for uncertainty."

"The best assurance of the future is the character of Calvin Coolidge."

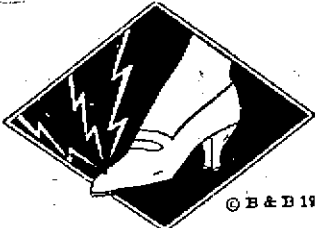

The secretary also paid tribute to Secretary Mellon for his conduct of post war government, financing, re-counting the increase in foreign trade that has resulted under the new Republican tariff; contrasted present industrial conditions with those of

Fond of Scandal

"While the American people detest crookedness and corruption, they are fond of scandal mongers. Throughout this favored country, in countless jury rooms our people are dealing directly with the creditability of witnesses, with the exhibition of the graces and personal amenities of tale bearers, and they know the difference between evidence and hearsay, between proof and malicious reports, between scurrilous innuendoes and sustained charges."

"They do not wish the guilty to escape, but they know that there is no security for life or liberty or character if the standards of justice are ignored and guilt is assumed before it is established."

"The injunction of Jehovah, to the great law-giver of Israel is still pertinent: 'Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment; thou shalt not respect the person or the poor, nor honour the person of the mighty; but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbor. Thou shalt not go up and down as a tale bearer among thy people.'

"The workers of this country are entitled to an administration of government which safeguards the opportunities of industry, which lives within its income, which reduces governmental expenditures and thus makes possible relief from oppressive taxation, which practices national thrift, the key to national prosperity."

Smith Endorsed For President By N. Y. Democrats

ALBANY, N. Y., April 16.—Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York was acclaimed as the candidate of his party in the state for the presidential nomination at the Democratic state convention here yesterday.

His candidacy was formally launched in two resolutions, one calling upon the state's eight delegates and eight alternates at large to the Democratic national convention to support him "loyally and faithfully as candidate for nomination to the exalted office of President" and the other, the concluding paragraph of the party platform, hailing him as the "type of public official imperatively demanded by the times."

The governor, whose appearance in the convention "auditorium" was the signal for a unanimous demonstration, told the delegates that he had not sought the honor which they would thrust upon him, but if the necessary votes could be obtained in the national convention he would be honored beyond power of expression to lead the forces of party in the next campaign.

"The man who would not have an ambition for that office would have a dead heart," he said.

How Is Jack Frost Treating Your Roads?

It is when the frost is coming out of the ground that the Concrete Road especially invites comparison with less durable types.

Concrete not only meets the test of changing seasons, but the test of traffic in all seasons—for any day, any season, is just the same to a Concrete Road.

Its firm, rigid, unyielding surface assures freedom from mud, holes, ruts, bumps and dust. Whether its surface is wet or dry, you feel its skidproof security.

And Concrete Roads can be built to carry practically any kind of traffic indefinitely because the maintenance is built in and repair built out.

Less durable types, constructed at no small cost, require expensive maintenance and must soon be rebuilt.

The Portland Cement Association has a personal service to offer individuals or communities. This service is designed to give you more for your money—whether you use Concrete or have it used for you.

Our booklet R-3 tells many interesting things about Concrete Roads. Write this office for your copy.

Record Order for Equipment Placed By C. & O.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 16.—President William J. Harahan, following a meeting of the Chesapeake and Ohio and Hocking Valley directors here today, announced that the C. & O. had placed orders for delivery next fall for 2,000 hopper bottom coal cars, 2,000 automobile box cars, 600 ballast cars, 20 cabooses and 15 express cars, and 10 Mikado type locomotives. The order is one of the largest placed in the history of the road and represents six per cent of the entire number ordered last year by all railroads.

Most of the equipment will be used by the C. & O. and the remainder by the Hocking Valley. It will be delivered in the fall. The order is to be allotted to manufacturers in the Pittsburgh and Chicago districts or on the lines of the C. & O. and Nickel Plate Railroads. The order will cost about $28,000,000. Equipment trust notes are to be issued to cover the cost. When the distribution of the order is completed it will constitute the third largest of the kind his year. The New York Central awarded contracts for 15,000 cars and the Pennsylvania 11,000, both in February as their part of the $100,000,000 outlay which railroads are understood to be expected to make for equipment this year.

When an Alarm Is Sweet Music

An alarm clock's tinkle is sweetest music in all the world to a calf belonging to Robert Ralph of Wall Lake, Iowa. Ralph grew tired of feeding his calf twice a day, so he invented an automatic calf-feeder when feeding time arrives, the clock goes off, calls the calf and sets in motion the device which does the feeding. A string, attached to the alarm bell's clapper, releases a ball which, in turn, opens the chute which lets the grain slide from the hopper into the feeding trough below.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.—(By the Associated Press).—New charges of crookedness in the Department of Justice this time reaching up to Harry M. Daugherty himself were brought before the Daugherty investigating committee today by Gaston B. Means, former department agent and man of many connections.

He testified that Jess W. Smith on the night before he committed suicide in the Daugherty apartment here, asked Means to "return" $200,000 to a New York whiskey ring.

"Didn't Smith tell you he had made a division with the attorney general and the attorney general would not return it," asked Senator Wheeler, the committee prosecutor.

"He did," replied the witness. Means also declared Smith had told him that Daugherty knew he could indict A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney general under the Wilson administration, but decided not to because he wanted to "blackmail" him into using influence in congress. He described a meeting between Daugherty and Palmer from which he said the latter emerged "seared to death" at the proposition Daugherty had put up to him.

Switching to the indictment of Senator Wheeler in Montana, the witness asserted he had information that before disclosed regarding the activities of the department of justice in the case, the men sent from Washington who really did the work of collecting evidence, he said, had worked under cover and their identity had not been revealed.

During the Daugherty impeachment proceedings in the house more than a year ago, Means said he "knew" department of justice agents had "investigated" Representative Woodruff, of Michigan, and other members of congress.

"Did Daugherty tell you to take orders from Jess Smith?" asked Senator Wheeler.

"He told me to do anything Jess Smith ordered me to do and he said he liked me because I never let my left hand know what my right hand was doing."

"How did Jess Smith handle money?"

"In a roll—the most I ever saw him have was $100,000—I brought that to him."

"How much did you pay him altogether?"

"Oh, anywhere from $225,000 to $250,000. The night before he died Smith told me that he wanted me to return some money to New York bootleggers. I would not have anything to do with it and told him to see their lawyers."

Said Mannington, turned back money "Mannington, on other deals did turn back $20,000. The bootlegger wanted $200,000. Everybody knew Mannington and Smith represented the attorney general in the whiskey permits."

"I wish you'd be a little more particular," Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, remonstrated.

"I mean everybody in the whiskey ring, Will Orr, Tom Felder, John Goulet," said Means.

Senator Wheeler then brought up the subject of his own indictment in Montana.

"Mr. Daugherty said he had nothing to do with my indictment," he observed.

Burns Advised Daugherty Not To Indict Wheeler

"Oh, Burns told me he had advised Daugherty against getting that indictment weeks ago," Means said. "The attorney general went ahead with it against his advice."

"Do you know anything of searches of senate offices during the tariff fight?"

"We had the whole tariff commission under surveillance. We followed up all the experts, and gave reports on it to the chairman of the commission and to Mr. Fordney over in the house. I had four or five men helping."

"What did the department want to find out?" asked Senator Jones.

"One thing, some Japanese importers wanted a special rate, and one of the commission experts was actually employed by a Japanese concern. Another expert was dealing with the sugar crowd."

"Then it wasn't the tariff commission, it was their experts," Senator Jones said.

"That's right," Means replied. He was excused for the time being and the committee recessed its hearing until tomorrow.

"You testified to talking to Jess Smith a number of times in the attorney general's office," said Senator Wheeler. "What did he do in there?"

Generally he was in there listening to the stock market reports in the afternoon.

"You talked about these alien property cases to Smith."

"Many times. Smith told me they were going to indict Palmer and Garvan."

"Why didn't they?"

"Jess Smith said they were going to use them to blackmail them and make them do what they wanted."

"They—who is that?"

"Harry M. Daugherty, the attorney general," Means said.

"The committee today again questioned George W. Storck, a department of justice investigator whose story swung back into grave charges of irregularities in the administration of alien property under the Wilson administration."

Storck charged that Martin E. Kerns, purchaser of the Bosch Magneto property, had paid $10,000 in 1920, to Joseph P. Guffey, a Democratic leader of Pennsylvania and sales manager under Allen Property Custodian A. Mitchell Palmer. The payment, witness said, was ostensibly in connection with liquor permits which Guffey never delivered.

Serious irregularities in alien property transactions in the Philippine Islands also were charged by the witness who said Francis Burton Harrison, then governor general, acted in the matter for Palmer. All of the results of his investigations there were turned over to the department of justice while Harry M. Daugherty was attorney general, he said, but nothing done about them.

Storck also told the committee that since he testified before it last week his papers both in the department of justice and in his hotel room had been mysteriously inspected, although they were under lock and key.

When the day's session opened Chairman Brookhart, called the name of Mannington—the same Mannington who wanted to testify when he was in Paris."

There was no answer.

Senator Wheeler, however, insisted that George Chamberlain, counsel for H. M. Daugherty, "produce Mannington, who is standing in the back of the room."

"I also ask if it is not true," continued the committee prosecutor, "that Mr. Mannington was indicted in New York just before he went to Europe, in connection with the issuance of liquor permits. I ask also what were the facts as to what became of that indictment."

"You'll have to get that from the district attorney in New York," Mr. Chamberlain responded.

Senator Wheeler consented to drop the subject for the moment and proceeded with the testimony of Storck, who began by declaring that Martin E. Kern, purchaser of the Bosch Magneto property from the alien property custodian, had paid Joseph P. Guffey, a Democratic leader in Pennsylvania, and former director of sales of the alien property custodian, the sum of $10,000 to influence the release of liquor.

Hatchet Brandished; Woman Is Fined

Mrs. Rachel Allen, colored, 1310 Twelfth street, pleaded not guilty to a charge of attempting to provoke a breach of the peace, when she appeared in Municipal Court Wednesday, but the evidence was against her and Judge Sprague imposed a fine of $5 and costs against her and warned her to watch her conduct in the future.

The complaint was filed by John B.

Greshel, a neighbor, who claimed that the defendant abused and threatened to strike him with a hatchet when he attempted to remove a wire from a fence separating their properties. Other witnesses testified that Mrs. Allen was a troublemaker in the neighborhood, although she strenuously asserted her innocence.

Reeg Home Is Robbed

A thief gained entrance to the Adam Reeg home, 925 John street, Tuesday night while members of the family were absent. A window pane was broken, after which the window was easily unlocked. Several articles of jewelry and money formed the loot. Police are working on the case.

ODD FACTS

Queen Victoria began to keep a diary at the age of thirteen.

In practically every State and Federal penitentiary, penal institution and House of Detention in the United States, motion pictures are shown regularly to the inmates.

More than half a billion dollars are paid out annually in this country for admissions to performances of the "movies."

What was the first metal used by man, and the arbitrary value assigned to it for its supposed magical qualities induced a world-wide search for it and made it a potent factor in shaping the history of civilization.

Nearly as long as St. Paul's Cathedral, and lit up by electricity, the largest laying-house for hens is to be found on a poultry-farm in Sussex.

With the turtles imported from England alive from the West Indies comes a supply of the only food they will eat, a special variety of West Indian seaweed.

SPARKS' BIG CIRCUS IS HERE TOMORROW

For weeks the small boy and other folks not quite so diminutive in stature have feasted their eyes on the gaily colored lithographs announcing the coming of the Sparks Circus. Everyone who was once a real live youngster knows just when the circus is coming to town, where it will unload and just how the elephants, camels, ponies, wild animals and circus paraphernalia will be transported to the circus grounds where the tented city is greeted with such surprising rapidity.

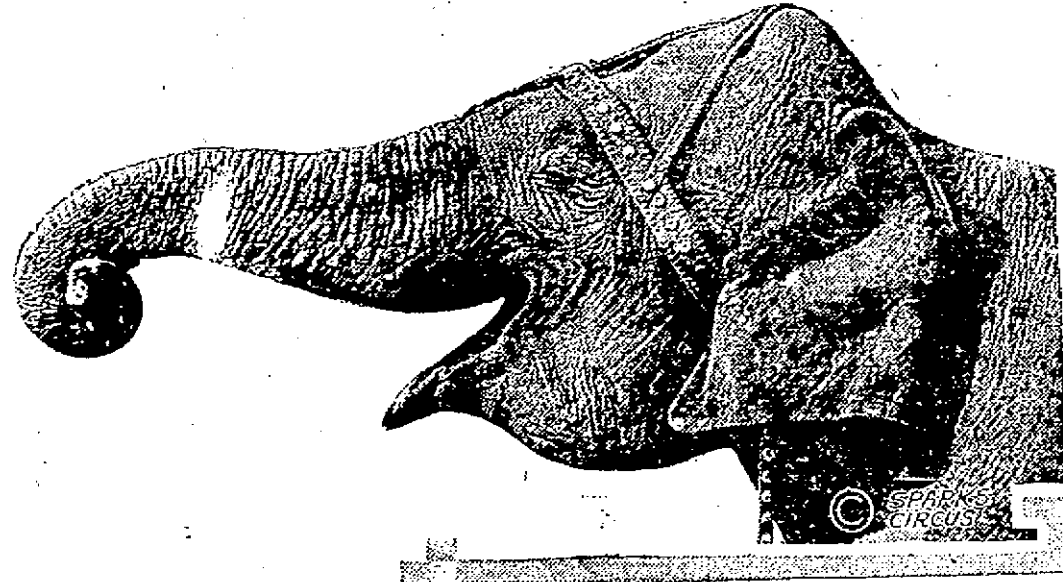

At 2 and 8 p. m. the main performance will commence, the public being admitted one hour earlier to visit the menagerie department. Children's tickets have been reduced to 30 cents including war tax.

The performance of the Sparks Circus makes the spectator live again those joyous, care-free days of the Land of Make-Believe, which is the reason for the tremendous popularity of the Sparks Circus among all classes and conditions of people in all parts of the United States and of Canada.

A scene of great pictorial beauty called "An Egyptian Fantasy," starts the performance. Taking part in this opening number is a big chorus of pretty young girls in gorgeous costumes, and there are beautiful horses and elephants and camels and llamas in the background.

Following this is a thrilling display of acrobatic stunts, and a rapid succession of other numbers.

In the menagerie will be found splendid specimens of the deerly beasts of the jungles of India and of Africa, and strange animals from South America and from China.

This is Beno, the smiling elephant. The question naturally arises as to what has made Beno smile. The elephant dinner bell, of course. For his dinner, Beno will have a bushel of oats mixed with bran, two hundred pounds of hay, six quarts of carrots, and ten gallons of water. He will be seen smiling in Portsmouth with the Sparks Circus on Thursday, April 17th.

Three Corned Fight Over Soldiers' Bonus

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.—(By the Associated Press)—A three-cornered fight in the senate over the soldier bonus bill was certain today, with hostilities scheduled to open before the end of the week when consideration of the measure is begun on the floor.

Most of the Democrats are expected to support the measure, but the minority report prepared by the Democratic members of the finance committee seeking incorporation in the bill of an option for full cash payments. A small bloc of "bitter ends" against the bonus also has made itself known, headed by Senator Knoot, Republican, Utah, chairman of the finance committee, and Senator King, Utah, a Democratic member of the committee.

Republican advocates of a soldier bonus bill generally are prepared to support the measure prepared by the Senate Committee on Finance, of Kansas, a Republican member of the committee. It provides for cash payments to veterans not entitled to more than $50 in adjusted service compensation and 20 year endowment life insurance policies to others.

German Reply on Dawes' Report Is Unconditional Acceptance

PARIS, April 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The German note in reply to the reparations commission's invitation for German representatives to be heard on the experts' committee's report was handed to the commission at 6:05 o'clock this evening.

The German reply is an unconditional acceptance of the experts' plan as a basis for negotiations looking to a final settlement of the reparations question, the German war burdens commission declared.

Local Units Answer Call To Arms

Portsmouth's two National Guard units, Battery B and the Combat Train, of the 134th Field Artillery, 27th Division, answered a special call to arms last night, both organizations making a fine showing on the number of men assembled on such short notice.

The assembling of troops of the 27th Division last evening was merely a test mobilization to see how quickly they could be called to arms for movement. Of the entire personnel of Battery B, consisting of four officers and 63 men, two officers and 54 men were present. The two missing officers reported at other mobilization points. In the Combat Train, out of an enlisted strength of three officers and 40 men, two officers and 36 men were present.

Captain Theron Matthews was in charge of Battery B and Captain Curry Williams in charge of the Combat Train. Both officers with a sergeant on detached service made the inspection of the two local units, the men assembling with full marching equipment. The Battery outfit marched over the main streets before they were dismissed.

Three blasts on the Solly factory whistle called out the guardmen at 8:30 o'clock and within an hour the privates, corporals, sergeants and officers had assembled at the Armory on Third street.

New Boston Council May Name Electrician

Passage of three ordinances featured last night's regular session of New Boston Council, two of the legislative matters relating to the new electric fire alarm system, while the other provides for the bonding and licensing of plumbers.

The ordinance calls for plumbers to post a $1,000 bond and to pay a license fee of $1 per year. Another ordinance provides for the creation of the position of electrician in the fire department at a salary of $50 per month. Fire Chief William Adams is to take care of this work, in addition to acting as chief. The work will be in connection with the new fire alarm system. The other piece of legislation makes it a misdemeanor for anyone to tamper with the new fire alarm system or interfere with the firemen in fighting fires or while they are making runs to fires. The offense is punishable with a fine of from $5 to $50 and imprisonment of from 10 to 30 days, or both.

Clerk Russell Middleburgh reported a number of bids received on the furnishing of a large truck for the service department and a motor car for the fire chief. Council adjourned until Friday night at 7 o'clock, when they will take up the matter of opening the bids and buying the machines. Bids will be received up until Friday noon. A short discussion on the proposed improvement of alleys in the village ended without any action being taken.

Local Boy Scored The Winning Run

It fell to the lot of a Portsmouth lad, Eddie Hock, former Solly star in the Industrial League, to score in the winning run for the Reds over the Pittsburgh Pirates at Cincinnati Tuesday. Eddie, as fleet of foot as a deer, ran for Pitcher Sheehan after the St. Paul recruit had reached third. One man was out at the time and the bases were full. Eddie Hock was at bat and sent a long fly to left field. Bitches, left behind for the Pirates, raced back behind the plate and made a wonderful catch of the ball, but when he saw Hock streaking it for home, made no attempt to throw the ball for Hock was going down the third bases line with the speed of an express. Most one could have scored on such a long sacrifice fly, but it all went to show that Manager Hendrix of the Reds fully appreciates the Portsmouth boy's speed and intelligence. They say in Cincinnati that Hock will remain with the Reds throughout the season. He practiced with the team before the game and is an exact replica for Eddie Hock, who has taken a great fancy to the Portsmouth boy and who is coaching him at every opportunity.

Discussed Credits At Grocers' Meet

At a well attended meeting of the Portsmouth Retail Grocers' Association last night, two new members, J. J. Wolfe and C. J. Cunningham, were accepted. George W. Woodward of the Portsmouth Retail Merchants' Credit Bureau made a talk on credits and Secretary Earl Woodcock reported on last week's annual banquet of the grocers. On May 6 the regular meeting will be featured by a debate on the matter of grocers carrying duplicate brands instead of one or two brands and selling them to the consumer.

Lodge Defends Coolidge For Letter of Protest Against Trend of Probes

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Replying to critics of President Coolidge for his letter of protest against the trend of senate investigations, Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican floor leader, declared today in the senate that the chief executive had acted entirely within his rights.

"This message," said Senator Lodge, relates directly to the conduct of public business, with which the president is charged as chief executive."

Calling attention to that section of the message stating that the internal revenue bureau investigating committee was seeking information which could not be helpful in framing legislation, Senator Lodge pointed out that there were laws making individual tax returns, including those of Secretary Mellon, imperative.

"There can be no question in anybody's mind," the majority leader said, "that the purpose could not be otherwise than to seek something in relation to the character of the secretary of the treasury himself."

Senator Lodge said he regretted to take up the time of the senate because of the important legislation pending but could not allow to pass without reply an address of "such importance" as that delivered yesterday by Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia.

"I do not think there is any ground for finding fault with the president in communicating his views on matters like this," he continued.

"History however, is that the president never have hesitated to communicate with congress to give their views on many subjects, especially those reflecting the administration of the government."

Adverting to the revenue bureau investigating committee, Senator Lodge declared that committee "clearly went beyond its authority in approving the employment of counsel to be paid by a member."

"It certainly has not been the practice since I have been here," he said, "I cannot believe it was or is in the interest of the senate to authorize such a procedure."

When President Coolidge referred to objectionable "intrusions" the senator said, "he had reference to the apparent employment of an outsider" to dig into official files. The Republican leader read the message line by line, giving his interpretation as he proceeded.

"The language is strong," he agreed, "but it was necessary. The senate paper parlance had created a new office in the person of 'committee prosecutor.'"

The internal revenue inquiry really was intended to "break down" Secretary Mellon, Senator Lodge said. "There is much more in this than politeness," he declared. "It is aimed at the secretary of the treasury because he is the author of a great bill in which the whole country is interested."

Salte Ann SAYS

"What lovely hats! What unusual colorings! What charming combinations!" were a few of the exclamations I heard in The Fashion's busy millinery department this morning. And really it is a pleasure to view this charming collection. The new vogue for orchid and white is well represented; black and white is here in abundance; dandelion and black, so popular on Fifth avenue, is here too, in many charming shapes. All black hats in lacy braids, lisses and soft straws are shown in many new conceptions, both for the matron and the miss. Leghorns, massed with colorful flowers are beginning to make their appearance. Sports hats, saucy or demure take colorings of apple green, sheik, toast and zinc. With Easter in the offing hats are finding new owners rapidly. Better choose yours tomorrow.

Whopper Stills Are Uncovered In Greenup Co. Raids

GREENUP, Ky., April 16.—(Special to the Times)—Four places where moonshiners have been active were raided by county and prohibition officers today. No prisoners resulted from the raids, four men escaping in the Wednesday morning raids.

Sherriff S. V. Callahan, Deputy Jerome Shepherd of Fullerton and Deputy Ed Tinsley of this place, and prohibition officers J. M. Billiter of Callertown and A. W. Burkhett of Grayson formed the raiding party. Tuesday night they visited the Tipton Valley in the vicinity of Lond where they found and destroyed a 100 gallon still, 1200 gallons of mash, 7 gallons of the finished product, and 54 one gallon jugs ready to be filled.

Wednesday morning they visited the Big Woods on East Fork in the eastern section of the county. Two 300 gallon stills, with double copper coils and a 150 gallon still were located. One of the big stills was saved and brought to the court house yard where hundreds examined it this afternoon. ## Geraldine Farrar Here April 23 At Columbus Is a "Singer of Songs"

As a "singer of songs," Geraldine Farrar, who has been more widely known heretofore as a delineator of operatic characterizations, is rapidly developing an appreciative and enthusiastic number of admirers.

Without the aid of scenery, costumes, orchestra, etc., which is so essentially a part of operatic characterization, she is disclosing her skill as an "artist" and the world is used of such delightful numbers as Schumann's "The Chestnut Tree," Brahms' "Fetes Galantes," Grieg's "First Meeting" and Gretchenbrieff's "Awakening," show a vocal artistry and mood delineation that is beyond compare, and never has she been heard to such advantage as on this present tour.

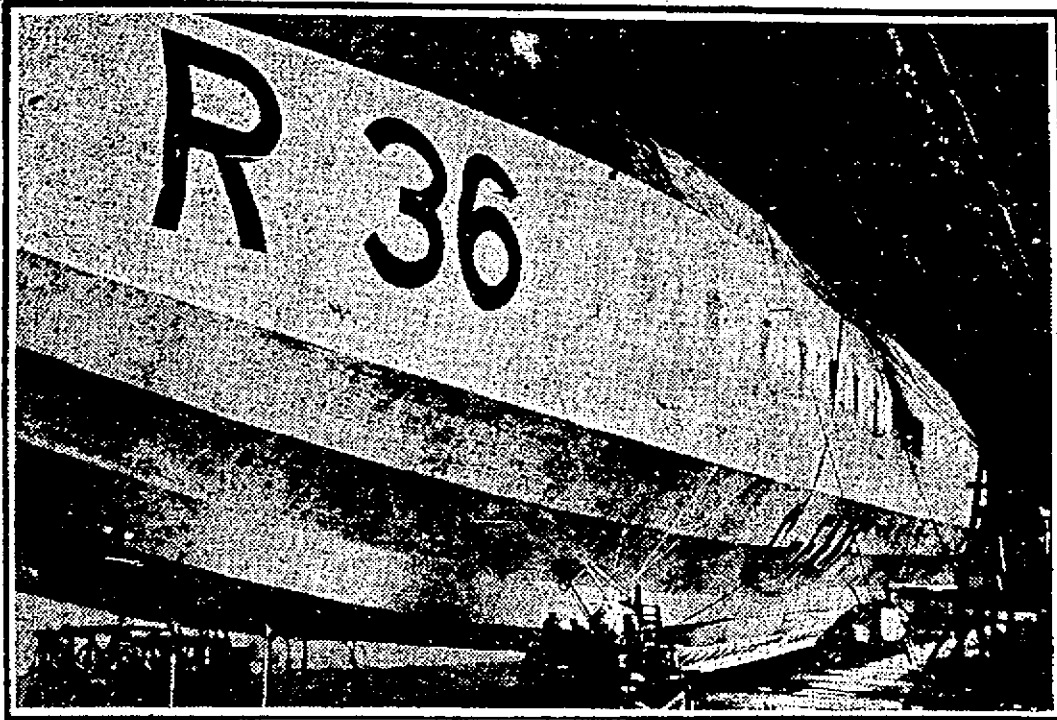

Her program for April 22, will embrace a group of German, one of French and a third of Russian songs. Reserved seats go on sale at the Columbia box office, Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

This is a small part of the effort being made by the Sun managers to give their patrons a complete newspaper.

"Blood Atonement" is Boy's Defense

By NE ASERVICE
HOUSTON, Tex.—May a son make blood atonement for his mother's sufferings?

A jury here will have to decide that question at the trial of "Bob" Robinson, youthful slayer of Mollie Dudley, for "The Unwritten Law by Proxy," is his sole defense.

Bob insists he shot and killed the attractive divorcee because he feared she had won his father's love from his mother.

The friendship between his father, Dr. C. H. Robinson, well-to-do physician, and Mollie began with the divorcee's illness. The doctor restored her to health.

Then he was injured in an accident.

Mrs. Robinson nursed him.

Mrs. Robinson soon began to hear disconcerting stories. Her boy, Bob, just 22, heard these, too. He thought his father and Mollie would elope.

So he got a revolver, went to the "other woman's" home and killed her.

And now Dr. Robinson's life secrets are about to be bared to save his son from the electric chair.

Ill feeling already has broken out between two prominent Texas families. For the Robinsons are the Robinsons of Harris county, and Mollie was one of the Bushes of Trinity county. Each family blames the other for the tragedy.

Unfavorable Weather Hurts The Spring Hardware Sales

NEW YORK, April 16.—Hardware sales in its weekly summary of the hardware market, will say tomorrow: "The sale of seasonal goods in the hardware market is more or less confined at present because of the unfavorable weather, and the disposition on the part of buyers to order on a hand-to-mouth basis."
"Retail stocks are light, and jobbers anticipate that a warm spell will bring retailers into the market for substantial orders. Generally speaking, collections are slow."
There is a general attitude of watchful waiting in the market, and neither the manufacturer nor the jobber is willing to commit himself very far ahead. Building, however, continues, and the demand for contractors' supplies, builders' hardware and home furnishings and mechanics' tools is strong.

WALL STREET BRIEFS

Depression in the leather industry for a year was reflected in the annual report of the Armour Leather Company showing net consolidated loss of $1,278,248, which includes the provision for depreciation of $1,071,942. The report for the 14 months ended December 31, 1923, at the close of which the balance sheet showed a profit and loss deficit of $9,427,431.
Sales of the Melville Shoe Company in the first quarter of 1924 aggregated $1,755,255, an increase of $205,544 over the same period last year.
Bargain hunters who have been under the stock market for several days are beginning to get well under way, prices are making their appearance and brokers, quick to look for any change in the current trend, consider it a sign that the end of the downward swing is in sight.

Unfavorable dividend developments have been receiving more attention in the stock market than construction of the Kelly Springfield 8 per cent preferred payment was the signal for a general setback on rubber shares, while increases in Martin-Parry and New Cornelia Copper payment and a stock dividend of 15 per cent by the National Tea company received scarce notice.
The Phillips Petroleum company has paid in advance to the Magnolia Petroleum company the balance of $6,000,000 on the $10,000,000 serial loan contracted last year, which does not entirely mature for a year. The company earned net income of $6,000,000 in the first quarter of 1923.

Revision of the constitution of the New York exchange will be one of the principal subjects to be taken up by the new administration, which comes into power May 1.
A new issue of $6,000,000 forty year sinking funds six per cent gold bonds of the city of Rotterdam, Holland, is offered today at 98 and interest to yield more than 6 1/2 per cent.
The first external loan that city has borrowed abroad. Other offerings include $5,000,000 General American Tank Corporation 5 1/2 per cent equipment trust certificate series B, to yield from 5.50 per cent; $2,250,000 Columbus Railway Power and Light company (Columbus, Ohio) refunding mortgage bonds six per cent series at $100.
The Northern Traction and Light company ended net income of $98,915 in 1923, equal after preferred dividends to $5.16 a share on $100,000, 600 common stock against $720,382 or $3.84 a share on $100,000 common in 1922.

REDS COP OPENING GAME FROM PIRATES IN THRILLING NINTH INNING RALLY

Donohue Driven

From the Mound

CINCINNATI, O., April 16.—Before a record breaking crowd, Cincinnati defeated Pittsburgh in the first game of the championship season, 6 to 3. Morrison was hit freely and his initial support was somewhat ragged. Donohue allowed only one hit in five innings, but was pounded hard in the sixth, when the visitors bunched four clean singles and a triple by Bigbee for four earned runs. Sheehan finished the game in good form. The Reds tied the score in the eighth on Hargrave's second triple and Bohne's sacrifice fly, and won off Meadows in the ninth on two passes, a single by Burns and Roush's sacrifice fly. Hargrave was the leading pitcher with two triples and a single out of four times up. The actual paid attendance was 35,747, the largest number ever at a ball game at Redland Field.

FIRST INNING

Donohue's first pitch was a strike, after which he buried four straight balls, walking Maranville. With the count two and two, Carey, on a hit-and-run play, lined straight to Burns. Maranville had rounded, second and was easily doubled off by Carey. Burns to Daubert. Bigbee flied to Duncan. No runs; no hits; no errors.

SECOND INNING

Carey threw wide on Traynor. Daubert caught the ball up the line, toward the plate and seemingly tagged Traynor as he ran by, but Umpire Wilson ruled otherwise, so it was scored as an error for Carey. Barnhart drove the first pitch over Bohne's head for a single. Traynor taking third. Duncan came in to bat, and got his hands on Wright's low fly, but felt he could not hold it. Traynor, going, Barnhart, though, held first and Duncan's throw to Bohne forced him, robbing Wright of a hit. Sheehan went out to warm up for the Reds. Grimm bounced to Daubert, Schmidt flied to Pinelli and Wright was run down. Pinelli to Bohne, to Pinelli. One run; one hit; one error.

TRIBE WINS

DETROIT, MICH., April 16.—Detroit opened the American League season Tuesday by defeating Cleveland 4 to 3, in a game complete with sensation, hitting, Cobb, Heilmann and Speaker or shared honors in fielding almost impossible catches. The Tiger manager cut off a possible tie in the eighth inning when he raced far to his left for a leaping catch that robbed Summa of what appeared to be a certain home run.

Blue, the Tiger first baseman, hit a home run over the center field fence in the sixth inning, starting a rally that gave Detroit three runs and a one point margin in that inning. The crowd was estimated at approximately 34,000.

JOHNSON IN FORM

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Walter Johnson, ace of the Washington team, opened his 13th campaign in the American League Tuesday with a shut out victory over Philadelphia, 4 to 0. The veteran was in great form allowing only four hits and issuing but two passes.

President Coolidge officially opened the season by tossing out the first ball. The president was accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge and an official party. Secretary Wilbur of the navy led the parade of the two teams to the flag pole in deep center field, where the flag was raised prior to the opening of the game.

It was the 101st shut out victory for Johnson, and by striking out eight of the visitors he increased his total in this line to more than 3,000. A crowd of more than 25,000 witnessed the opening.

SISLER STARS

CHICAGO, April 16.—George Harold Sisler, outstanding star of the 1922 American League season, came back to game Tuesday after a year's absence due to impaired vision and making his debut as manager of the St. Louis Browns, contributed largely to the team's 3 to 2 victory over Chicago by smushing out two hits in four attempts.

Sisler, back in his old position at first base, fielded perfectly with 15 putouts and no errors, drove in the first run, and also the run which broke the tie in the fifth. He finished with a .600 average at bat although he did not score.

On Sisler's second time up he watched the third strike go by, but reached first at the other three times, once on Sheely's error and twice on singles. The called third strike was one of Robertson's deceptive "slow" balls.

The game was close up to the fifth when Sisler's single scored Tobin. In the seventh the Browns added two more on Shocker's walk, Tobin's second two bagger, and Gerber's single. After reaching first on Sheely's failure to stop his grounder, Sisler shared in an attempted double steal, but Gerber was caught at third, so Sisler lost credit for his stolen base. Score:

HOOSIERS BEAT MILLERS
INDIANAPOLIS, April 16.—Indianapolis won the opening game of the season from the Minneapolis club here Tuesday by a score of 10 to 8, before a crowd of approximately 12,000 fans. Malone was wild and ineffective while Petty pitched good ball in and the eighth when he was driven from the mound on six hits, which put the visitors within striking distance. Smith stopped the rally, however. The score:

Minneapolis 000 002 000—2
Indianapolis 011 100 400—10
Malone, Lynch, McGraw, Mangum, and Mayer; Petty, Smith and Krueger.

TOLEDO WINS

TOLEDO, O., April 16.—With John Scott pitching in masterful form, Toledo Tuesday won the game from Milwaukee 5 to 3. Scott's delivery baffled the Brewers, who got only seven wild scattered hits. The ex-New York Giant, ruler struck out 11 men, walked only one and hit one. The official attendance figures were 14,743. Score:

Milwaukee 000 110 000—3
Toledo 001 000 020—5
Schuch, Slaney and Shinn; Scott and Gaston.

COLUMBUS WINS OPENER

COLUMBUS, O., April 16.—Columbus won the opening game of the Association season Tuesday by defeating Kansas City 6 to 2. Caldwell, usually a Columbus fan, was hammered viciously and retired after four innings. Dabrowski though wild, was invincible with men on base, except in the eighth when two triples were followed by two sacrifice flies. Russell hit Columbus in the final out in the second with a long home run and that lead was never relinquished. The paid attendance was 9,941. Score:

Kansas City 000 000 020—2
Columbus 001 000 10x—6
Caldwell, Thornhill and Skiff; Palmer and Hartley.

GRIST FOR OUR MILLS

A REPORT is out that Warden Frank Voorhees, of the Scioto county game preserve, proposes, with the permission of the game commission, and the help of convict trustees to be assigned him, to erect a tourists' camp on the game preserve.

If Warden Voorhees goes into this work he should do it right. He should equip a camp that would be an attraction in itself. Several rustic shanties, affording a sufficient shelter against the hard rains that visit this section, water and cooking utensils would not be amiss. A number of western towns have tourists' camps on quite an elaborate scale and find them even directly profitable, as a modest charge for the use of their conveniences more than pays the cost of upkeep.

Even at the present time the game preserve, though, so lately established, has its attractions. It is situated in the heart of the wildest and most rugged lands, a region so primeval that the average person will be amazed to find the like in the old and great state of Ohio. There is a big herd of deer, a bear or two, vast flocks of turkeys, pheasants and guinea fowls. Other wild animals will be introduced as soon as possible and a great fishing lake will be built. In five years the preserve will be one of the great creations of the country.

Already thousands of tourists are visiting it and the number will see a tremendous increase each year. It will grow rapidly as an attraction and be of substantial benefit, not only to Scioto, but to Lawrence county as well. It will be the best advertisement both can get. For the millions of tourists that flock to it will be charmed by the magnificent panorama, a trip along the river through these counties, will afford, and while Scioto will get the campers, Lawrence will get the steady stream that will pass over the Ironton bridge, both going and coming.

TOO MUCH OF BOTH

NOT an infrequent complaint is that this country has too much government. The legislative and executive branches intrude into every field of popular and personal activity and seek to control or regulate it.

Too much government means too many office holders. There is little comprehension as to how they swarm the land. Everyone knows, of course, that there are officials drawing pay from the nation, the state, the county, the city, the township and the village, but few know that these, added together, reach the staggering proportion of one pap sucker for every sixteen inhabitants. Such a proportion is more than staggering, it is appalling.

Small wonder then that the cost of government runs higher every year and the principal concern of legislative bodies is to devise further methods of taxation. No legislator ever seeks to lessen expenses of government. He applies all his energies and such brains as he has to discovering new sources of revenue.

This situation can not go on forever. The country has got to return and return soon to the original concept, a free, honest and economical government—expressed in the axiom, the least governed nation is the best governed.

MAKING THEIR OWN MESS

THERE are growing indications that the Republicans are deeply dissatisfied with the innumerable investigations in progress at Washington.

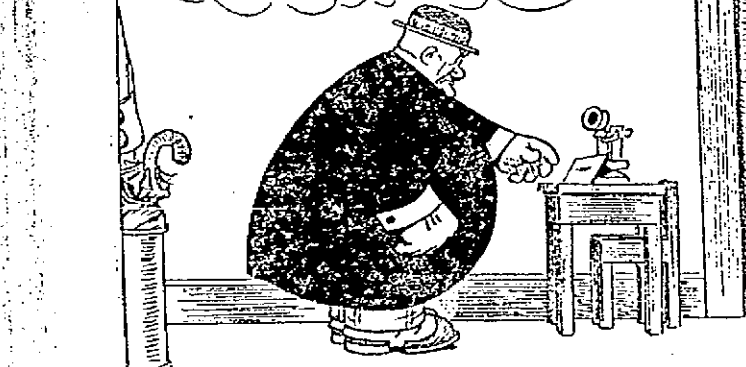

They have none to blame, but themselves. Right merrily, having the majority, they set the investigations afoot and authorized them to function. The responsibility for the outcome, however, unpleasant and nauseating it may be, is therefore their's solely and alone.

President Coolidge himself disgusted and apparently worried has mixed up in the mess in the particular behoof of his secretary of the treasury. That doesn't avoid the fact that the brewing was all done inside his own party, even in the case that concerns him so deeply. Governor Pinchot, Republican of Pennsylvania, suggested the employment of Francis J. Heney, and it is a Republican, Senator Cousins, that is to pay Heney's charges.

Democrats must deny any responsibility in the matter, except a stern and patriotic purpose to make the Republicans take the dose of their own concoction to the full measure.

You can't head 'em off, nor stop the spawning of the tax eating animalcule. In Cleveland there is a proposition to establish a policewomen's bureau. More public jobs, but at that why shouldn't women have just as many as men. They vote now, just the same, don't they?

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 16—Two of the most successful plays of the season on Broadway deal with commonplace incidents among commonplace people. In one the hero is a young man whose mind blots up all the cheap catch phrases of advertising slogans.

In the other there is a dull-minded husband and his equally dull-minded wife who live the drab life thousands live in complete content. One summarizes the theatre is going through considerable purging of the ungenerative themes that have characterized it of late.

The play that portrays ordinary lives has always been popular from the days of "The Old Homestead" on. People have grown rather tired of popularizing the jaunty Magdalen and their castling languages of the brothel.

Rich old rones and sandy girls may hold interest for a time, but the bulk of the theatrical gothic public enjoy most the ordinary person with whom they rub elbows every day. The success of these two plays convinces one that censorship is not necessary.

Public taste will purge the theatre just as it will literature. Vulgarity has been deleted the smutty joke and the suggestive gesture and never in its history has it received so much patronage. Burlesque, too, has cleaned house and found profits growing.

There was a time when bed-room farces were too vulgar six but when they grew too vulgar six they were presented only for a few days. The seamy spectacle of a performance being played in the confines of a bazaar resulted in an entire cast being indicted.

The theatre does not need squander of language. In make it interesting. The ten excellent plays that are such successes haven't a line or situation that could not be heard or seen by Aunt Prue from Boston.

There is a Paris perfumer who has opened up a perfume salon on Madison Avenue. His specialty is blending perfume to personality. He studies the patron carefully and claims to be exact in his science. His products are only for the rich. A small vial of his personality blend costs $30. He has been here only a few months but he does a big volume of business.

The perfumer's idea shows how easily New York will be goaded for swank. He permitted me to inhale the fragrance of one of his blends might have been a high-grade blending, but it smelled to me like a mixture of a horse collar and the inside sole of a sick shoe.

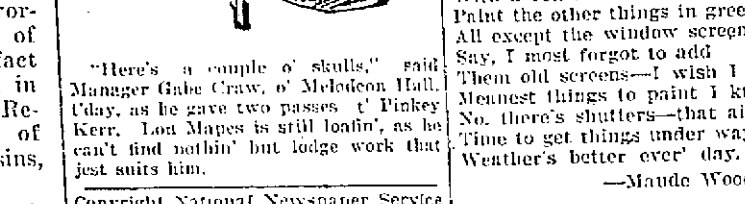

Another importation is a Frenchman who has opened up a "soul control institute" where young girls become masters of themselves. He is the type that wears a flowing robe and chases the buttercup over the dewy lawn at dawn. He has about 40 students and one of their stunts is to hold hands about a table laden with roses and recite some flowery phrases to their inner consciousness. One of the best ways for a modern young girl to get a strange hold on her soul these days, I believe, is to tackle the dinner dishes or wrestle with a man in the kitchen.

A man alone at a matinee feels quite conspicuous for some reason or other. Also he feels a guilty shudder. I was at one the other day—two rheumatic old men, man on the vest of the male 'action of the audience. I felt like going out and borrowing a typewriter's card, displaying it in my hat to show them I labored at night.

There is a New York business man who has received about 15 new books from friends recently. He has replied to each that he "enjoyed perusing them." He did peruse them, but did not read them. Gladstone had the best formula. He always wrote: "I lost no time in reading your book."

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP TIME

Spring is here, I've darned it 'taint. Time to buy a keg o' paint:

Paint the old place over 'spring. Paint up nearly eve-thing.

House and fence and chicken-pen, Chads and porch and gate again, Summer-house and arbor, too, 'That's a job I hate to do—

Got so many little slats, Posts and doodad trimmin's that I do't ever seem to get Through with paintin' of 'em—yet They look mighty good when done, Sort o' brightens up the home

To put paint on eve-thing. Sort o' fits right in with spring. White's my favorite kind o' paint. Clean's a whistie, dogged if 'taint.

Put it on the house and shed, With a red roof overhead. Paint the other things in greens. All except the window screens.

Say, I most forgot to add 'Them old scarpens—I wish I had! Nearest things to paint I know. No, there's shutters—that ain't so. 'Gine to get things under way. Weather's better eve' day.

LOSS OF MEMORY: A peculiar phase of this disease is that the patient's loss of memory only embraces a few things, such as General Orders, his rifle number and the military courtesies. In no instance does he ever forget the best place to run a guard line when entering camp after taps, how to decore the cooks into giving thirds at mess, of which one of his buddies always has cigarettes. The memory should be jogged by giving the patient a shock, such as confinement to quarters, until his mind returns. Under such treatment the recovery is rapid.
